THIRTY-THIRD YEAR NO. 20.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1910

PRICE $1.00 A YEAR.

RIDGWAY LOST HIS CASE.

Judge Kyle heard the Ridgway injunction suit Monday morning as brought by C. M. Ridgway, the druggist, to stop the collection of two fines amounting to $400 for violation of the liquor laws as assessed by J. H. Wolford, as Mayor during his term two years ago.

Ridgway had been found guilty and was given the limit in each case and appeal was taken to the Common Pleas, Circuit and Supreme Courts, where the Mayor's decision was affirmed in every particular.

When the Sheriff was given an execution to force the collection of the fines and costs, Ridgway brought an injunction suit and a temporary restraining order was issued. Monday the case was heard on its merits.

Ridgway claimed that the records were not complete and that this was sufficient evidence for an injunction. It will be remembered that the "bo-peep" act between Mayor Andrew and Mr. Ridgway about the loss of certain papers resulted in the Mayor "fining" them, and it was this one act that cost Ridgway the loss of his case. Only two witnesses were called Mayor Andrew and Ex-Mayor Wolford. Judge Kyle without leaving the bench immediately dismissed the suit and Mr. Ridgway will now be called upon to put up the fine of $400 and about $1000. Dow tax, unless he can trump some other suit.

County Prosecutor W. F. Orr and Mr. G. W. Crabbs, of Dayton, for the Anti-Saloon League represented the state, while Attorney Harry Armstrong represented Mr. Ridgway.

MUSHROOMS.

This is to hereby notify all persons that they must keep off my 200 acres of woodla., d. river and park, near Yellow Springs, O. Hereafter all this land will be held as cultivated land. We warn mushrooms hunters especially to keep off this land. We wish to allow the voluntary mushrooms, asparagus and glassing to go to seed; also, to protect the young animals, fish, squirrels and rabbits, for bearing animals, birds, etc., so that in four or more years we can gather at least $5000 to $10,000 worth of mushrooms in a season. We also wish to preserve all other voluntary mushrooms, seeds from being destroyed. Persons violating this notice will surely have the officers of the law after them. Parties desiring to enter the grounds for pleasure must get permission.

Death Of Mrs. Williamson.

We take the following from the Claysville, Pa., Recorder, concerning the death of Mrs. Martha L. Irwin, widow of John Williamson, who died at her home Friday, April 30, and was buried Monday, May 2, at the age of 82 years.

The deceased was the youngest of seven children, her parents coming to this country from Ireland when she was 21 months old. On February 8, 1883, she was married to John Williamson, of Cedarville, where she made her home until after his death November 18, 1898. She made her home with her niece, Miss Kate Irwin, who faithfully cared for her to the last.

Mrs. Williamson united with the North Buffalo United Presbyterian congregation of which her parents were members about 68 years ago. Her membership was transferred to the B. P. church, Cedarville, and later to the Claysville B. P. church. She has been a subscriber of the United Presbyterian ever since the first issue 62 ago.

Burial took place in the Claysville cemetery.

C. M. Austin For Commissioner.

One of Greene County's most prominent farmers, of Bellbrook, is announced as a candidate for County Commissioner. For 25 years Mr. Austin has been a member of the "Green County Association" Board, of which organization he was President for a number of years and is now treasurer. He also served two terms as Trustee in Sugar Creek township, and has the trust and confidence of his home people. His uprightness of motive and action, his integrity of character, his critical and conservative judgment makes him preeminently fitted for the Commissioner's office. Mr. Austin is public spirited, of fair and candid mind, of honorable principles and is above all sectional and factional prejudices.

Aside from his experience in public affairs and sound judgment, he comes from the western section of the county, a township that has never had a commissioner. That Mr. Austin will prove to be a live wire, when the votes are counted is indicated by the interest his friends are taking in his campaign and from impartial public opinion, that the western section of Greene County should have a commissioner.

Death Of Mrs. McLean.

Mrs. Alma McLean, wife Marshall H. A. McLean, died Sabbath morning after an illness of several months, suffering from tuberculosis. The deceased was a daughter of Joseph Robinson of Xenia and was married to Mr. McLean, June 23, 1893. Besides the husband she is survived by three children, two sons, Leonard and Wilbur and one daughter, Fleeta.

About three weeks ago a sister, Mrs. Nellie Bolton, of Wilmington, died with the same disease. However, Mrs. McLean was called to her eternal home without knowing that her sister had preceded her.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the M. E. church, of which the deceased was a faithful member, the services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. E. Putt. Burial took place north of town.

BAND CONCERTS.

The season is approaching for summer concerts and some action should be taken on the part of the merchants to see that a band is organized or employed for each Saturday night.

This plan has been tested and proven satisfactory in that there must be some attraction to bring people this way. Other towns in this vicinity have weekly concerts and there is no reason why Cedarville should be in the rear.

The cost is small compared to the results and we hope that some concentrated action will be taken before long which will give the town a public concert at least one night each week.

A CARD.

To the Republican Electors and Tax-Payers of Greene Co.—I wish to call the attention of all thinking men to the fact that the office of prosecuting attorney is of great importance to the tax payers of the county.

The prosecuting attorney, is by law, the legal adviser of all township and county boards and officers; he has all of the legal business of the county to attend to including the trial of all civil and criminal cases in the probate court, common pleas, circuit court and supreme court.

There are many important cases now pending in the courts of vital importance to the county, the result of which means the saving or loss of thousands of dollars.

Since I took office some three years ago I have worked hard and earnestly at all of this business of the people.

I am now standing for re-nomination upon the record I have made while in office. I invite you to inspect it at headquarters here. The records here at the court house won't lie. It has been my aim to give the people a clean, business-like administration. I have done this; come and see for yourselves.

I have lived in Greene County all of my life, and have raised a family here. I expect to remain here among you the rest of my life. I have had 15 years experience as a practicing lawyer.

I seeking another term of two years I am asking what has been conceded to all other prosecutors for many years back. But I might add that if the prosecutor is a worker he grows more useful to the public by the experience he has gained, and the office is one peculiar in this respect; but I have no desire to stand in the way of any competent Greene County man whom the people would want after another two years, and will yield to such competent man, and help to elect him then. I have been busy in court attending to your business, and have not been able to see some of you during the campaign. I insist that there is not a blot on my record either from a moral or business standpoint, come and see for yourselves, if you please. Get your information from the right source.

I am very truly, Wm. F. Orr, Prosecuting Attorney, Greene County Ohio.

OHIO'S 51ST CONVENTION

Ohio's First-First State Sunday School Convention is announced for Cleveland, June 14, 15, 16, 1910. It promises to eclipse all previous Conventions in size and strength of program. Fifteen specialists of note have been engaged to speak and teach in this great institution. Among these are: Mr. Marion Lawrence, of Chicago; Miss Margaret Slattery of Fitchburg, Mass.; Dr. M. S. Littlefield, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Maudie J. Baldwin, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Dr. C. M. Coburn, of Mendonville, Pa.; Dr. J. B. Harris, of Pittsburg, Pa.; Prof. I. P. Leavelle, of Oxford, Miss.; Dr. D. H. Gusselt, of Peoria, Ill.; Dr. H. L. Hough, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dr. E. W. Thornton, of Cincinnati, and others. Prof. E. O. Excell, of Chicago, will lead the music.

The Convention will be held in the "Hippodrome", Cleveland's largest and most popular auditorium, with perfect acoustic properties. The people of Cleveland by voluntary subscription have secured this great Convention Hall at an expense of $1,000. This fact reveals the interest Cleveland has in the coming Convention and indicates something of the hospitality of the big city on the Lake.

Each county is entitled to ten official delegates appointed by the county officers. Hundreds of Sunday-schools will send official visitors. It is estimated that 15,000 people will attend the various sessions of this Convention. Programs ready for distribution on June 1. Apply to Ohio Sunday School Association, Bell Telephone Bldg., Columbus, O.

Lewis Gives One Excuse.

J. E. Lewis, the "misrepresentative" from Greene county to the legislature, has given one excuse as to why he introduced and had passed the measure that changed the Boxwell examinations to a date latter in the month, much to the inconvenience of boards of education examiners, teachers, and scholars. A prominent teacher in this county in urging Lewis to withdraw the measure in that it was unjust to more than eighty counties in the state, replied that Hamilton, George B. Cox's county, wanted the bill passed.

As this was Lewis' only reasonable answer to the examiner's question, he was asked which county he was representing, Hamilton or Greene?

This is but a fair sample of how Greene county's interest were cared for by the "misrepresentative". Not a single thing to the credit of the county does the candidate boast of in asking for another term.

Wilmington, O., April 5, 1910.
To the Republican voters of the hereby announce my intention to date for Representative in Congress, subject to the action of the Republican electors of the district. I have taken this action at the request of numerous members of the party, irrespective of past alliances.

If nominated and elected I can not promise impossible things. Single and alone I do not expect to be able to repeal any laws or enact new ones, but I do promise that as problems present themselves, I will give my best thought to their correct solution. I stand for the "square deal" for everybody, everywhere, and on this basis I respectfully solicit your support.

Frank M. Clevenger.

Some objection has been made on the candidacy of Frank L. Johnson for the office of prosecuting attorney on account of his age but this objection is not well taken as Mr. Johnson is now 25 years of age and upon examination of the records of the prosecutors of Greene and adjoining counties we find that this office has been filled generally by young attorneys.

In an interview with Judge Munger (who was prosecutor about 45 years ago) he says that the office of prosecuting attorney has always been conceded by the Bar and Bench to belong to the young members of the Bar. Some of the best prosecutors Greene County has ever had have been young men. John Little was elected prosecutor just after having been admitted to the Bar, and at the present time Clark County has a young man as its prosecutor who is only about two years Mr. Johnson's senior and he has filled the office already for two years satisfactorily.

Mr. Johnson has been endorsed and is being supported by the leading business and professional men of the county who have confidence in his ability and realize that in him Greene County would have a prosecutor who would give in return for the confidence they have bestowed upon him, a fair, conscientious, enforcement of the law.

We, the undersigned voters of Greene County do hereby recommend Mr. Frank L. Johnson for the office of Prosecuting Attorney of this county. He is a young man of strong moral character and mental attainments and well qualified for the office and if elected will perform his duties with integrity, skill and intelligence.

 (Try the Ohio Commission on the Blind)
 It is a fact that nearly 300,000 children blind, though neglect keeps entering the State School for the Blind at Columbus. This is not because parents do not care, but because there is much ignorance and neglect. MANY WILL SEE CIRCUS.

Hundreds from this city and surrounding country to visit Ringling Bros.

Ringling Bros. Circus is the magnet that will attract hundreds of visitors from this city and the surrounding country to Dayton on Wednesday, May 18.

The railroads are offering special inducements in the way of cheap rates.

The program the Ringlings are offering this year is nothing less than wonderful. It is given by 975 artists. Over 200 hundred of them are Europeans, making their first tour of America. There are no less than 100 big acts. Novelties will be presented by the telephoning elephants the wonderful Schuman horses, from Albert Schuman's German circus—the Lorch family of acrobats; the Arthur Saxon trio of strong men; the Manello-Marnitz family of upside-down bell ringers; the Alexis family of acrobats; the Dutton company of equestrians; the aerial Klarkons, and the fifty funniest clowns in the world.

The chief attraction of the menagerie is Darwin, the missing link. He looks more like a human than some men. Darwin lives in his own house. It has windows, doors, pictures on the wall, electric lights and a hot-water heater. He dines at a table with a complete table equipment. He wears the clothes of a man. He carries a watch and is fond of a soothing pipe. He is a friendly chap and likes to shake hands with visitors. Another attractive member of the menagerie is Jennie, an elephant that has just passed her 50th birthday. When George Washington was still president of the United States, she was brought from the wilds of India to become an attraction in the Zoological Gardens at London, England. She was then 100 years old. She is still in her prime, for elephants have been known to live for 500 years. More than likely Jennie will live to eat peanuts from the hands of children whose great grandparents are yet unborn.

The forenoon parade is far the best street spectacle the Ringling Brothers have ever devised. It was built in the foreign workshops of the show near Liverpool last winter at a cost of $1,000,000. It was made from designs executed by the best artists of Italy and France. In it will be seen 1,200 people from all parts of the world, 650 horses and more than half the elephants in America. It will be three miles long. It leaves the show grounds at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

Heat the Knife Blade.

To spread the hardest butter easily on the thinnest bread, have a cup of boiling water handy, into which dip the point of the knife each time before cutting a piece from the butter. This renders it just right for spreading evenly. New bread or cakes can be cut without jagged edges if the blade of the knife used be heated for a second in a clear fire.
